Welfare director

The Welfare Director plays an important role in managing hostels at the campus level. Through the Hostel Management System, the director is able to oversee hostel allocations, upload and delete hostels together with their respective rooms, generate reports, blacklist students when necessary, reallocate students to different hostels, and ensure that hostel administration runs efficiently. This manual provides clear guidance on how the Welfare Director can use the system effectively.

1.1 Sign in

To access the system, the Welfare Director must log in using the official link provided by the university: <https://huye.ur.ac.rw/hostelms/login.php>. The director enters the email and password that were shared by the system administrator. Once these details are verified, the system grants access to the dashboard.

The screenshot shows the login interface of the University of Rwanda Hostel Management System. At the top, there is a header with the university's logo and name, and links to the official website and help. The main content area features a central login box with the university's logo, a 'Login' button, and a link to 'Reset Password'. Below the login box, there are input fields for 'Email Address' and 'Password', and a 'Reset Password' link. The background is dark blue.

1.2 Forgot password

In the event that the Welfare Director forgets a password, the process of resetting it is straightforward. By clicking on the "Forgot Password" link on the login page, the director is prompted to enter the registered email address. A reset code is automatically sent to that email. After entering the code into the system and confirming its validity, a new password can be created and confirmed. This ensures continued access without requiring assistance from the administrator.

1.3 Accessing dashboard

After a successful login, the director is directed to the dashboard, which serves as the central interface of the system. The first page of the dashboard displays key statistics such as the total number of hostels and student applications. From here, the director can explore campus-level statistics, hostel-specific data, and dynamic search functions that allow quick access to any hostel within the system. Additional insights and analytical views of hostel allocations are also available. The dashboard is designed with charts and graphs, including bar charts that display hostel occupancy rates, making it easier to visualize hostel usage at a glance.

1.4 Quick search

The Welfare Director can search for a specific student using the registration number. Once the search is completed, the system displays the student profile, allowing the director to update their information, allocate a new hostel, or reallocate the student from an existing hostel to another one.

On the same page, after locating the student, the director is able to view all the student's personal details. This includes registration number, name, contact information, and academic details.

The system also allows the director to update information such as email, phone number, or national identification number. If the student has already been allocated a room, the details of that room will appear together with a Reassign button. If the student does not yet have a room, only the Assign button will be visible.

By clicking the reassign option, the director opens a modal that lists all available hostels. Selecting a hostel expands it to show the available rooms. From here, the director can choose one room to reallocate the student.

Once the room has been assigned, the student is required to upload a receipt for payment. However, the director also has the option to approve the allocation immediately without waiting for the receipt. If the student fails to upload the receipt within the specified time, the allocation will be automatically cancelled by the system, and the room will be released.

1.5 Add blacklist student

The Welfare Director has the ability to prevent ineligible students from applying for hostel rooms by adding them to the blacklist. This is done by uploading a CSV file that follows a required format, which can be downloaded from the system as a template. The blacklist can also be managed manually, as individual students may be removed by searching their details and clicking the remove option. This ensures that students who are not permitted to access hostel services remain restricted.

How to Use:

1. Click the "Download Template" button to get the CSV template
2. Fill in the template with student information (Registration Number, Names, Reason)

1.6 Manage Report

The system provides different reports that the Welfare Director can generate and export. Each type of report can be filtered according to specific parameters, making it easier to monitor hostel activities and student allocations.

1.6.1 Student Report

By clicking on the Search Student tab, the director can filter and view students based on different parameters. A student can be searched using a single parameter such as registration number or name, or by combining multiple filters such as gender, year of study, or academic details. Once the report is displayed, it can be exported for record-keeping or analysis.

Important Notes:

- All fields marked with * are required
- File must be in Excel (.xlsx) or CSV format
- Do not modify the header row OR make sure header of each column is correct as in that template
- Save Excel files as CSV before uploading that is good practice
- Building Code must be unique for each building
- Gender must be either 'M' or 'F' (capital letters)
- Year must be a valid year of study (1, 2, 3, 4, etc.)
- You can only upload hostels for your assigned campus

Required Fields

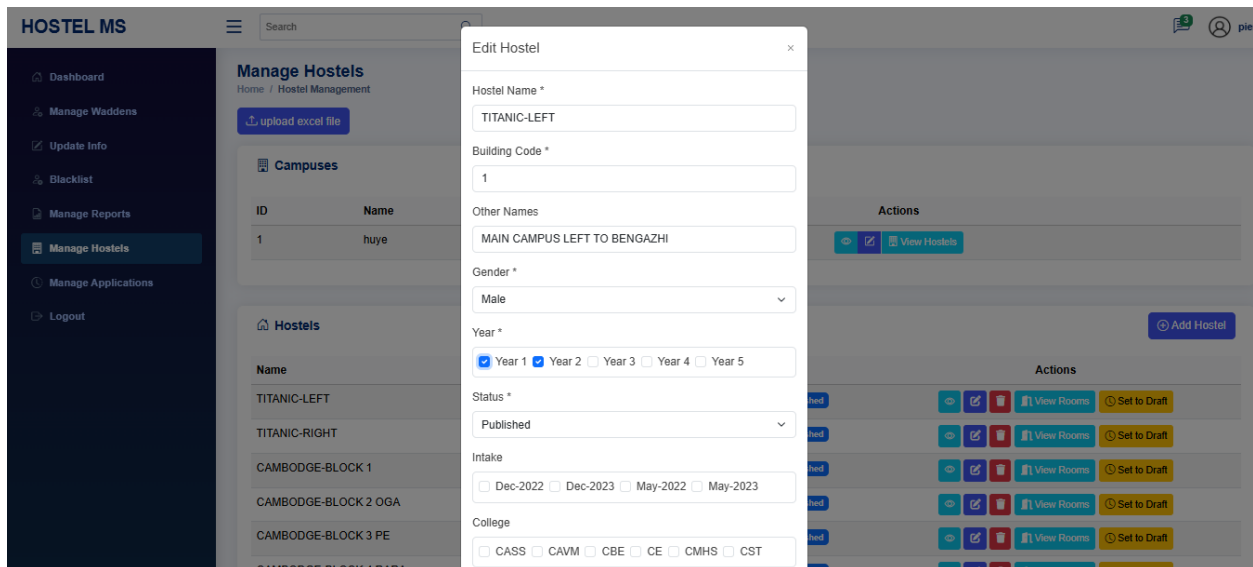

| Field          | Description                                     |
|----------------|-------------------------------------------------|
| Campus*        | Your assigned campus name                       |
| Building Code* | Unique identifier for the building (e.g., B001) |

Once hostels are added, they can be viewed with their full details. Each hostel also includes student eligibility indicators such as gender or year of study. These indicators are important because they define which students are permitted to apply for that hostel.

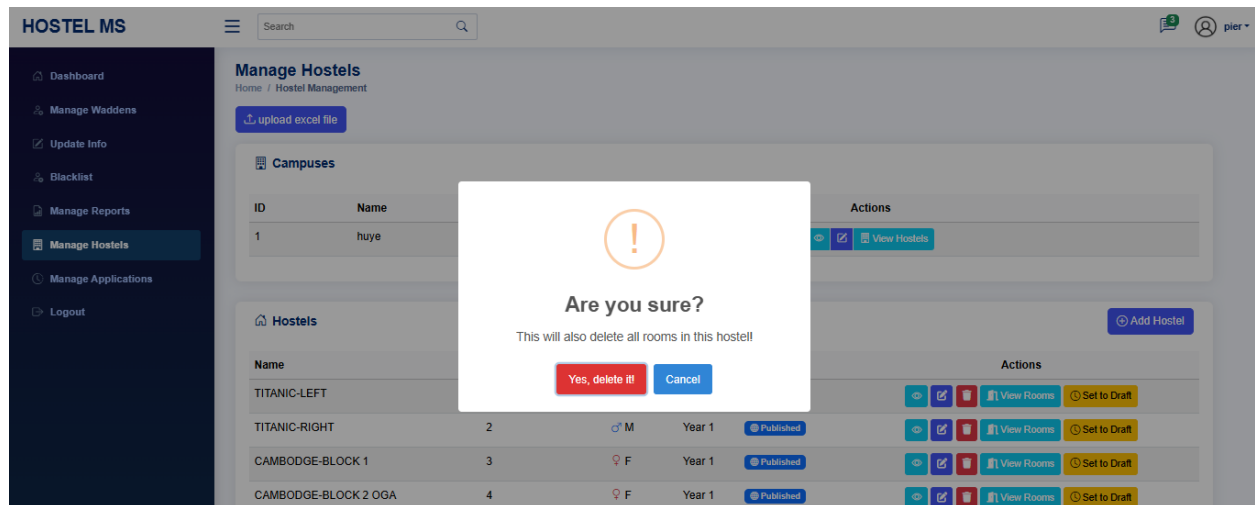

When updating a hostel, the director must be careful in selecting the parameters. For example, if the wrong gender is chosen, male students could mistakenly be assigned to a female hostel or vice versa. The most important parameters to check carefully are gender and year of study. Other fields such as intake or college are optional, but gender and year of study must always be accurate.

A hostel can either be published or left in draft mode. If it is in draft, no student can apply for it. To make a hostel available for students, the director must ensure it is published.

Deleting hostel

If a hostel is no longer needed, it can be deleted by clicking on the red trash icon and confirming the action.

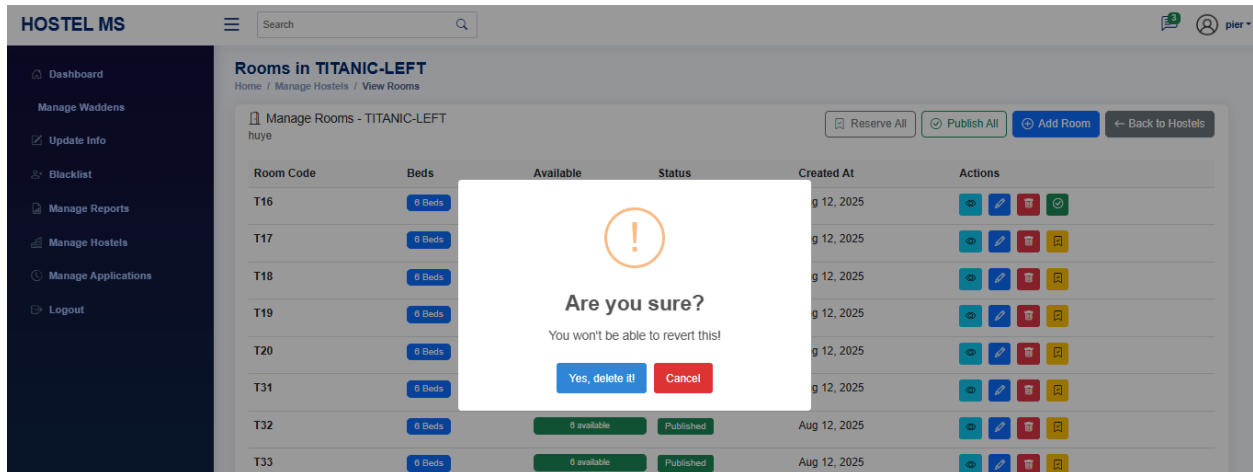

From the list of hostels, the director can also open the View Rooms option. This redirects to a page displaying all the rooms within that hostel. On this page, rooms can be deleted, updated, reserved for a specific purpose, or even reserved in bulk for the entire hostel.

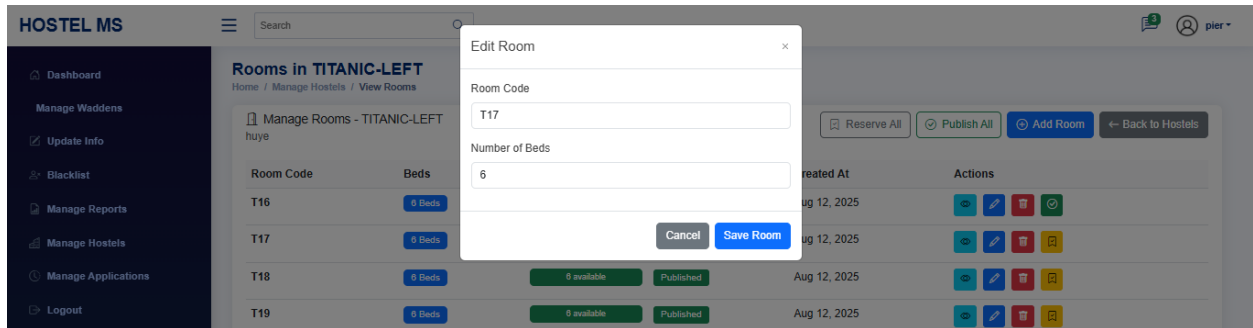

Clicking on view room details

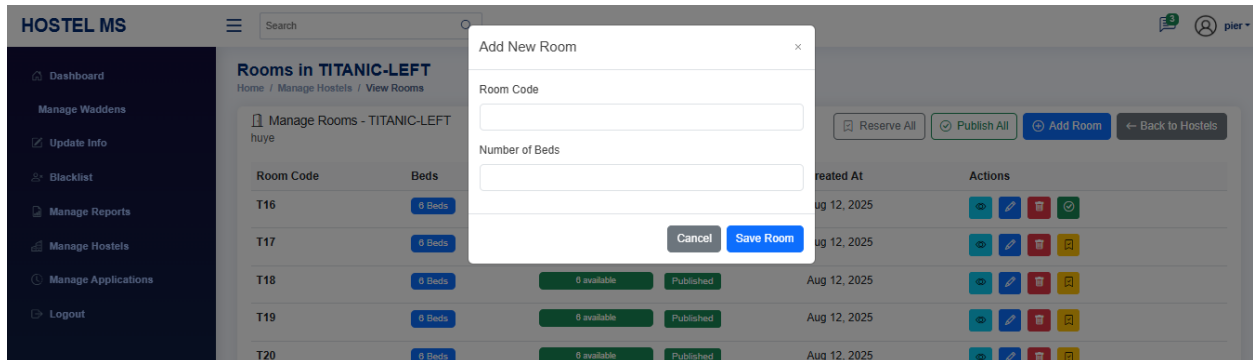

Deleting room and confirm it by clicking red truck icon

Add new room by clicking add room button

1.8. Manage application

Student applications for hostel rooms are displayed in real time on the applications page. Whenever a student applies for a room, the application immediately appears with a status label. Pending status indicates that the student has applied but has not yet uploaded a receipt. If the specified deadline passes without a receipt, the application is automatically deleted by the system. Once a receipt is uploaded, the application status changes to paid, allowing the director to review the student's personal and academic information, as well as the selected room. Based on this review, the application can either be approved or rejected.

Approve or rejecting,

1.9 Manage Warden

The Welfare Director is also responsible for assigning wardens to specific hostels. Wardens can be added to the system by system admin or head quarter user and director welfare you have to assign to hostel by clicking edit icon and choose hostel to assign. Their details can be modified or removed whenever necessary, ensuring that hostel oversight is properly maintained.
